Reflection from Rev Phil Warrey, Methodist Representative

Week of Prayer for Christian Unity

The Week of Prayer for Christian Unity is an annual, worldwide Christian observance held 18–25 January, inviting churches of many traditions to pray together for the unity of the Church.

Its roots go back to the early 20th century, a time when Christians were becoming increasingly aware of the divisions between churches and the need for reconciliation. In 1908, the Octave for Christian Unity was launched by Paul Wattson, an Anglican priest who later became Roman Catholic. The eight days symbolised a sustained period of prayer for unity.

The movement gained wider ecumenical support after World War I, as churches recognised that division weakened their witness in a fractured world. In 1935, French pastor Paul Couturier helped reshape the focus, encouraging prayer “for the unity Christ wills, by the means Christ wills,” allowing Christians from different traditions to pray together without compromising conscience.

A significant milestone came in 1966, when the World Council of Churches and the Roman Catholic Church began preparing the annual prayer materials together. Since then, these resources have often been written by an ecumenical group from a particular country or region, offering a global and contextual voice.

Today, the Week of Prayer is marked in over 100 countries, bringing together Protestants, Catholics, Orthodox, and Pentecostal Christians. It reminds the Church that unity is not uniformity, but a shared commitment to prayer, reconciliation, and common witness to Christ.

The Week of Prayer for Christian Unity takes place in 2026 from 18 to 25 January — the traditional eight-day period between the feast of St Peter and the feast of the Conversion of St Paul. Christians around the world — Protestants, Catholics, Orthodox and others — are invited to pray together for visible unity in the Body of Christ.

This year's theme

The theme for 2026 is taken from Ephesians 4:4:

“There is one body and one Spirit, just as you were called to the one hope of your calling.”

This passage from Paul's letter to the Ephesians reminds us that, despite the many traditions, cultures and expressions of Christian faith, all believers are part of the one Body of Christ and share a common hope through the Holy Spirit. The theme calls the Church to reflect on what it means to live out that unity in humility, patience, love and shared mission.

Who prepared the materials

The prayers and reflections for WPCU 2026 were prepared by the faithful of the Armenian Apostolic Church, together with sisters and brothers from the Armenian Catholic and Evangelical Churches. These draw on centuries-old traditions of prayer and worship in Armenia — the first nation to adopt Christianity as its state religion — and invite Christians worldwide to engage deeply with the theme of unity rooted in shared heritage and hope.

Rural Mission and Ministry with the Arthur Rank Centre

Arthur Rank

"Our new Rural & Wild Course explores what it means to be church beyond the walls — discovering God together in churchyards, hills, fields, forests, and the wider countryside.

Over one immersive weekend, participants will experience a blend of outdoor worship, reflective pilgrimage, and creative sessions on developing pioneering, community engagement, and nature-based spirituality. The course offers time to breathe, reflect, and be renewed in both calling and creativity.

Sessions will include:

Pioneering in rural places — with input from local practitioners

Outdoor and 'muddy' Church

Pilgrimage and prayer in the landscape

Worship with a local Outdoor Church on Sunday morning"
